

[ADJUSTABLE SPLIT BICYCLE SEAT]

Abstract of Disclosure

A split bicycle seat with two mirroring halves. The split seat has a first and second horizontal adjustment plate to allow the user to adjust either the nose or rear of the seat easily and to any desired width from 0" to $\frac{3}{4}$ " in the front to 0 to $1\frac{1}{2}$ " in the rear.

The present invention has two seat mounting bars to easily adhere it to a conventional bicycle.